Essential Questions

Factual—

- What problems do many ethnic groups face in the United States?
- What brought about ethnic movements in the 60's and 70's?

Conceptual—

- How do conflicts affect communities?
- How have these movements driven changes in society today?

Debatable-

- What are the long-lasting effects of historical conflicts on the different ethnic groups?
- Should the rights/concerns of a singular group be "cast aside" for the general welfare of all?
- Have these movements led to empowerment or push back in America? Why? Why not?
- What caused the development from non violent social protest to a more direct confrontational approach?

Teacher Tip:

- Preface with the way the individuals live may be shocking to you, but we have people in our community for whom this is happening. We don't judge, we are respectful, we are sensitive to others. Adhere to classroom norms.
- Students write a personal reflection:
 - What were some problems mentioned or observed in the video?
 - What do you think may be some of the causes for the issues many Native Americans/American Indians face today?
