Statement of Inquiry

While change occurs over time, there is continuity to the basic structure of that society.

Inquiry questions

Factual
How is the legislative process structured in the United States?
How is power distributed within the United States legislative branch?

Conceptual

Why are there unique qualifications and terms for elected members of the House of Representatives and the Senate?
Why are certain powers reserved for the House of Representatives?
Why are certain powers reserved for the Senate?

Debatable

How does the structure and function of the legislative branch of government impact the rule of law in the United States?
How do individuals, groups, and institutions impact the legislative process in the United States?

Relationship between summative assessment task(s) and statement of inquiry:

Congressional Leadership & Committees Group Research and Presentation

The summative assessment addresses the goals of the statement of inquiry by examining the system of state elections to identify people and parties of power in governance. It allows young learners to see the intended consequences of the power of one vote and the unintended consequences of nonvoters and for uneducated voters who do not research voting history and polling data points. This summative assessment allows them to access real world learning connections to gain a bigger perspective of how influential we are as constituents in the nomination, voting, campaigning and election process. Further it is explored through the lens of Identities and Relationships as students connect political parties and influence of an incumbent and challenger and beyond to political names and legacy of pertinent families over the history of our nation.
