I explained collaboration when we had to make one table because each person had to have a part and not just one person have a part of the table.

The most important thing I learned in this project was that everybody need to share more on news and share the percent in a group project so everyone gets a good grade.

I wish I had spent more time on the table to where I could make more work and correctly leave the table positions then make the map for the table.

Reflection time!

1. I exhibited a lot of communication during this project because we need to discuss different things.

2. The most important thing I learned was to share responsibilities and work together.

3. I wish I had spent more time on prism because they were not as good as they would be if I had more time. I would have also liked to spend more time on planning. It was a very rough plan, I could've got more detail on the laser mascer. Also, the prism only had a few big things.
* I exhibited creativity when making a unique way of making sounds.

* I exhibited communication when we had to edit our script.

* I exhibited collaboration when we had to make our idea.

* I exhibited critical thinking when I had to make part of the script.

* The most important thing I learned from this project is that space has less gravity than earth.

* I wish I had done differently is I wish I had spoken louder.

I exhibited collaboration when me and Layla agreed on a topic.

I exhibited critical thinking when I couldn’t figure out how to hear it.

I exhibited creativity when we came up with the theme song.

One important thing I learned in this project is sometimes you don’t agree with your partner.

One thing I wished I did differently is the name of podcast.
