

Reflection
 exhibited critical thinking when I ide this house because I thought about aving be more than one house to make it affordable, and have a restaurant too, for more space.
 The most important thing I learned is that people can't buy houses, because there really expensive, so people create apartments and combine them with shops and restaurants, so then people can afford them. I didn't know that.

I wish I had spent time on the balconies. The good.

Reflection
 I exhibited creativity when I thought about many different ways to place windows. The most important thing I learned in this project is that from Mr. McDaniel's presentation when he talked about self esteem. One thing I wish I did differently was how the windows looked. ♥

Teacher & student self-reflection exhibited communication while presenting my idea to my teacher to gain her approval of my idea.
 The most important thing I learned is that people should primarily build up rather than taking the plaster on the ground where there are natural habitats.

SELF-reflection

Vicki
 next time add more slides.

I Sabella
 I needed to finish my poster it is
 I should have done more cons

Self Reflection (sabella)
 I love the pictures but I wish we would add less and add more facts and ways to help.
 I also think the person cons are good. And I wish at the top the writing wouldn't be changed.

Peer Review!
 Caroline and Victoria
 I think your camera
 was amazing you
 added so many
 learning opportunities
 Vicki

NOAH and HENRY
 OM, SAIRUNG
 FEEDBACK: I love your reason on some slides I cut d the text. Overall your ject was awesome and ove how you acknowledged conr too!

I Sabella
 I loved your poster
 because it was so
 neat and organized
 and you thought of creative solutions.